

To ensure the timely processing of the Enrollment Certification/Projection (Form SAB 50-01), for a 'Dwelling Unit Augmentation', this worksheet was designed to assist school districts in tracking the eligible (current and valid) dwelling units within the school district's boundaries. When filing out a Form SAB 50-01, the school district should identify and enter the following:

INSTRUCTIONS

A. Tract map number that corresponds to the subdivision development approved by the local planning authority (Do not group tract map numbers together or list pending or unapproved tract maps).

B. Name of the housing development that corresponds to the tract map number, if available.

C. Date the local planning authority approved the tract map (within two years) or the most recent extension date granted and identify the expiration date.

D. Expiration date of Tract Map (if not finalized/recorded).

E. Status of the approved tract map. (E = Extension; F = Final/Recorded).

F. Number of dwelling units approved by the local planning authority for the corresponding tract map number.

G. Number of completed dwelling units within the development that have had final permits pulled and/or are occupied as of the date on the Enrollment Certification/Projection (Form SAB 50-01) submitted with this worksheet. Please note that the district must select only one of these options for all subdivisions.

H. Total number of remaining dwelling units from each corresponding tract map listed. The total eligible number of dwelling units is equal to the number of approved dwelling units (identified in column F) less the number of final permits pulled for construction (identified in column G).
